The Emirate of Embassies!

Every time the Islamic State manages to launch a tactical attack on the Crusaders, the pages of many jihad claimants, who have been cracking the heads of the Muslim Ummah for many years, have fallen out of favor with the argument of fighting the near and the far enemy, the clear and hidden enemy, and the enemy who is unanimous in fighting against them and not unanimous in fighting against them. It has become clear after all these years that they are left with no more unanimous enemy other than the Islamic State, and that these arguments are nothing but obstacles that ultimately lead to the disruption of jihad.

Until recently, an attack, similar to the heroic attack carried out by the lions of Islam on the Russian embassy in Khurasan, was celebrated by the Muslims, and the jihadi factions tried to do the sam, and they would greet each other and give supportive speeches for such an attack that targeted the "near enemy", according to their literature, as they targeted the enemies "unanimous in their fighting" which they termed as "global Zionist Crusade". But after years of secret and public setbacks, and the major systematic breakthroughs that struck these groups and congregations, such an attack on the embassy of a Crusader state which drank the blood of the Muslims, has become immoral, a conspiracy against Islam and Muslims, and a "suspicious jihad" made and adapted by the intelligence agencies! These embassies are no longer "dens for spying" on Muslims, as the "jihadist"" used to call them in the past. Here, it should be noted that the difference between "jihadists" and "mujahidin" and "Islamists" and "Muslims" reaches the level of the difference between "disbelievers" and "nonbelievers", while they are not equal in rulings.

The media supporting the Taliban and their other affiliates, after the attack, brazenly talked about the historical role of the Russian embassy in Afghanistan. It is as if the Crusader embassies that have spread their claws in the Muslim countries exist to serve the Muslims and defend their rights. Therefore, targeting the nests of spies and coordination centers of their war on Islam has become a conspiracy by the "pink jihadists" who follow the path of "Karzai" and "Kadyrov" and who dream of sitting on the throne in any way.

We did not expect that after all these years, we would have to go back to reminding again the danger of the Crusader embassies and consulates and their scorched role in the war against Muslims. And we did not expect that we would have to talk about the legality of targeting these embassies again. In the past, for many jihadists, this matter was obvious and very simple, but today it has become clear that this matter has not been accepted yet by them, and the distinction between their "leaders" and "common supporters" regarding this is a banal and ostentatious distinction, as their minds are equal.

What misfortune has the "callers of jihad" brought upon the minds and hearts of the Muslims, as targeting Crusader embassies has now become a matter of consideration?! How big a crime have these deviants committed by returning the generations of the Muslims to the centuries of wandering and mistrust, so that they have become suspicious of an operation targeting the embassy of a state that surpassed the Jews in killing the Muslims! Still, we remember the first days of the Russian-Ukrainian war, when the leaders of some murtadd movements rushed to issue a fatwa for the Muslims living in Ukraine that it is permissible for them to fight against the Russian Crusader army and place themselves in the ranks of the Ukrainian Crusader army, on the pretext of revenge against Russia, which committed the most heinous crimes against the Muslims in Sham. But when the Muslims have succeeded in targeting Crusader Russia's embassy and killing its employees, it has become an illegal jihad to them, and a suspicious act that draws sedition against Muslims?! Have they not fallen into strife?

The Russian Crusaders kept their embassy in Afghanistan throughout the years of war, even after the "Soviet withdrawal"! And even after the "US withdrawal", Russia is very keen on keeping its embassy active, working, and coordinating with any party that rules Afghanistan, because it considers Afghanistan as a necessary strategic dimension to its security, and the survival of its embassy is undoubtedly focused on this goal. Therefore, such a tactical strike on the achievement of their strategic security goal was a surprise to all parties at the local and the international levels, especially in light of their repeated and exhaustive talk about eliminating the Islamic State and limiting its capabilities.

It was noticeable to everyone after the attack, how anxiety dominated the statements of the Taliban leaders, who feared that their relationship with Russia would deteriorate, and the rest of the Crusader embassies would be forced to leave Afghanistan, which they consider a danger and harm to their "Emirate," as they claim that they seek to establish an "independent Islamic regime." We do not understand how can an "Islamic regime" beg for the Crusader Russian embassy to stay and for the American embassy to return, celebrate the opening of a Hindu embassy, and dream of a Chinese and an Iranian one?! As if it is an "Emirate of embassies", and nothing more. And we do not understand how it can be an "independent Islamic regime", for it is not even able to dispense with the embassies of the enemies of Islam, who are still continuing their enmity and war against Muslims in every field.

The images of the leaders of these movements and organizations, which have become addicted to roaming the palaces of the tawaghit of the East and the West and descending on the thresholds of their embassies in search of "legitimacy" and "support", portray the movements that are void of Islamic legitimacy, for their victory that passes through and departs from these Crusader embassies with their support and their defeat are the two sides of the same coin which is spent only in the markets of humiliation and servitude to deities other than Allah, glory be to Him.

After the adherence to tawhid, jihad is the source of pride for Muslims, and those, who participate in it and are steadfast in it, are the dearest of the people of the earth, even if they are burned in the trenches. Meanwhile, those who abandon it, being negligent to it and straying from its path, are the humiliated and the meanest of the people, even if palaces and luxurious hotels are opened for them. An observer of these murtadd movements and governments will see that they are pilgrims to the embassies of the kuffar, seeking their love and begging for crumbs from them, knowing for sure that they are distant from Ttwhid and jihad like the east is distant from the west.

It was by the grace of Allah the Almighty that the Islamic State succeeded a year ago in striking the US forces and their spies at the airport of Kabul, inflicting in their ranks the largest human losses in many years. Then, it has succeeded again in striking the employees of the Russian embassy and its spies. The attack comes as a confirmation that the dream of security of the Crusaders and their guards will not attained on the soil of Khurasan, by the permission of Allah the Almighty, even if all of them gather for it. And it also confirms that the Islamic State is continuing to fight the near and the far enemy, the original kuffar and the murtaddin, because its jihad is a comprehensive legal jihad that does not differentiate between the tawaghit, and it derives its legitimacy from the Book and the Sunnah, not from the embassies of the kuffar, and it receives its support from the full treasuries of Allah the Almighty, and it strives to establish the Shari'ah of the Almighty in full, and it neither adhere to a particular border nor recedes in a particular country; rather, its field is all over the world, and its soldiers are all Muslims walking on the prophetic method. Truly, those who follow this path are successful and fortunate, and the best end is for the righteous.
